Since 2006, National Centre for Organic and Natural Farming and its 8 Regional Centres (Now 5 Regional Centres) are notified for quality testing laboratories under the FCO (1985). Authorized inspectors from State Governments draw samples as per the requirement of FCO and send to NCONF/RCONFs for analysis. Reports of such samples are being provided to sample concerned State authorities for further necessary action.

NCONF and RCONFs provide feedback and suggestions on new organic and biological products to define their standards and testing protocols for inclusion into FCO (1985). To meet the regular requirement of mother culture strains of effective microorganisms for reference purpose. Some strains procured from national reputed organisations.

2. Quality control of biofertilizers and Organic fertilizers –

With the inclusion of biofertilizers and organic fertilizers under Fertilizer Control Order (FCO), a regulatory mechanism has been introduced in the country w.e.f. March 2006. NCONF and its RCONFS have been declared as Notified Quality Control Analysis laboratories. Under the system samples are being drawn by the statutory authorities of State Agriculture Departments and submitted to NCONF or concerned RCONF for quality analysis.

2.1. The details of biofertilizers and organic fertilizers samples analyzed in fulfillment of requirement under FCO during the year 2022-23 were as follows:

2.1.1 Biofertilisers: During year 2022-23 total of 206 sample of different biofertilisers under FCO were analyzed, out of which 67.96% samples were found sub-standard. The Centre wise detail of Quality testing is given in Table- 6.

2.1.2 Organic Manures: During the year, 2022-23 total of 269 samples of organic manures (including non FCO) were tested out of this 49.44 % samples were found sub standards. The Centre wise detail of Quality testing is given in Table- 7.

2.1.3 Non edible De-oiled cake fertilizers: During the year, 2022-23 total of 03 samples of organic manures were tested out of this 33.33% samples were found sub standards. The Centre wise detail of Quality testing is given in Table- 7.1.

Some of our officers are working as evaluation committee member under National Accredatory Board, Ministry of Commerce.

Annexure - I

Status of Participatory Guarantee System (PGS) – INDIA Organic certification Programme

Introduction:

Organic certification system meant for domestic purpose was launched in 2011 by Department of Agriculture & Farmers welfare, Ministry of Agriculture & Farmers welfare, Government of India and is an alternative to third party certification. Presently, Regional Councils are implementing certification programme under supervision of zonal councils (Regional Centres of NCONF).

NCONF is the Secretariat of the PGS programme with Director, NCONF as the Executive Secretary playing role in implementation of all activities of PGS- INDIA programme as per the directions of National Executive Committee headed by JS INM and National Advisory Committee (NAC) headed by Additional Secretary MoA.

In tune with the International Federation for Organic Agricultural Movements (IFOAM- PGS model/guidelines), PGS-India system is also based on the similar principles of participation, shared vision, transparency, trust and horizontality.

The term PGS embodies the active participation of producers and other stakeholders in their organic guarantee process. PGS-India covers standards for crop production, animal production, food processing, handling and storage etc.

The process of certification is very simple where group of farmers verify each other, document it and take collective decision on the organic status of individual producers in compliance of PGS standards. Collective guarantee of organic status decision is then submitted to Regional Council, which in turn on verification approves (or reject) the certification decision as per PGS Standards and Guidelines.

Steps in certification:

- Under the programme, farmers are aggregated into groups of minimum 5 farmers belonging to the same or nearby villages.
- Farmer group takes pledge for adopting standards and register the group on PGS portal with selection of Regional Council
- Endorsement by already existing Local Groups or State Govt. for scheme
- Regional Council accepts the registration after due diligence and endorsement by some authority or by any other PGS group.
- Training and Meetings
- Group starts farming as per PGS standards
- Every season, peers from the group undertake peer appraisal/ inspection of each and every member and submit peer appraisal summary report with recommendations to Regional Council through the portal
- Regional Council verifies the authenticity of claims and declarations made in peer appraisal report
- On being satisfied grants certification status.
- Group can generate the certificate from the portal
- Updating yield (actual)

Scopes of PGS-INDIA organic certification system

To ensure entry of individual farm/Group/large area producers and PGS-India certified organic farmproduce into organized processing and retail sales, PGS-India provides a system of continued verification of organic integrity for farms, on-farm and off-farm processing and handling and online marketing and traceability system. There are three types of module developed at present as given below

1. Crop Production Module
2. Processing and Handling Module
3. Live Stock Module and others

1. Crop Production module: The complete certification operation under PGS-INDIA web portal has been made functional at present. under crop production modules and there are three categories for which certificates will be issued by RC and the details as follows;

- A. Large Area Certification (LAC)
- B. Individual Group certification
- C. Local Group certification:

A. LAC certification

India had been traditionally organic and many areas continue to remain organic. Due to complexities in documentation, physical verification and other requirements for standards compliance such areas could not be considered organic in spite of the fact that they are traditionally organic. PGS-India provides an opportunity to mainstream these areas to organic under the overall guiding principles of PGS-India with following additional features:

- Only large contiguous areas complying to PGS-India standards for several years are considered
- Local/ State administration assures that there is effective ban on usage of synthetic inputs and GMOs and no permissions have been granted for sale/supply of prohibited substances.
- Such areas are geographically isolated from conventional area and are separated by hills, non-agricultural land, sea, rivers, forests or any other effective barrier.
- Adoption of PGS-India organic farming policy and practices by all the farmers in the region and its corroboration by village council or Gram Panchayats

Status of Large Area certification under PGS-India system:

An area of 14491 ha of Car Nicobar and Nancowrie Island of Andaman Nicobar, 3220.27 ha in Lakshadweep, 4200 ha (Approx) in Ladakh (Union Territory) and 65279.29 hectare in Dantewada District of Chhattisgarh considered for approval under LAC.

First large area certification system was implemented in Carnicobar and Nancowrie islands area under Union territory of Andaman & Nicobar declared as “Organic” under PGS-INDIA programme in accordance with requirement of PGS-INDIA National Standards for Organic Production in the month of April, 2021 covering an area of 14491 ha .

The second Large Area certification was implemented successfully in PGS Local Groups namely Agatti, Amini, Andrott, Kiltan, Kavaratti, Chetlat & Bitra, Kadmat, Kalpeni, Minicoy in Lakshadweep UTs and declared as 100% Organic. The PGS India certification taken up by Regional Council namely KRISHI VIGYAN KENDRA LAKSHADWEEP, PROGRAMME COORDINATOR, KAVARATTI ISLAND.

B. Individual certification:

Who can register for Individual certification?

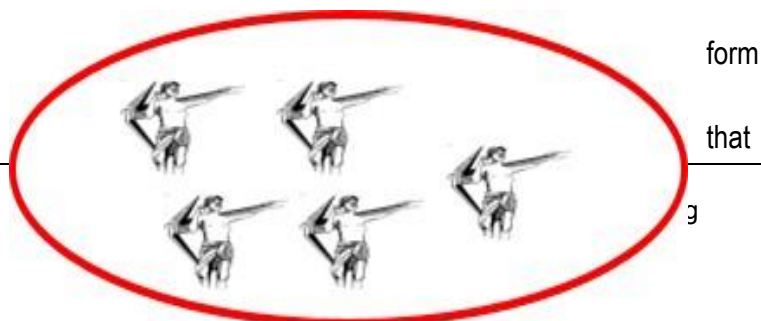

At the beginning where farmer is interested to undertake organic farming in a place in which other farmers are not ready to join group or no local groups nearby villages present or isolated farmer away from other farmers, in that case, any individual farmer have a scope to register under Individual certification system. In the year with introduction of scope for individual certification farmers start enrolling under PGS India system in different States. A total of 167 members joined in the year 2022-23 as this is new module introduced and webportal operation issues slow registration observed and lack of knowledge the less number of farmer's registration was noticed and there is large scope to individual farmers to make organic certification benefits in long run.
