05 Days Residential training programme on Organic Farming (for Technical Graduates)

About us:- National Centre for Organic and Natural Farming is an apex organization for promotion of chemical free farming under INM Division, Department of Agriculture & Farmers Welfare, Ministry of Agriculture & Farmers Welfare, Government of India. The Centre initially established in the year 1988 with name National Biofertilizer Development Centre (NBDC) having Head quarter at Ghaziabad and six Regional Centre's established across India under the National Project on Development and Use of Biofertilizers. One of the prime objectives of NBDC and RBDCs were large scale production of quality bio-fertilizers for demand based supply across the country. The mandates of NBDC were revised in the year 2004 and Centre was given a new name as National Centre of Organic Farming (NCOF) entrusted with the promotion of organic farming through technical capacity building, ensuring quality control of BFs & OFs as per FCO, 1985 and implementation of low cost certification system known as "Participatory Guarantee System". To meet the current challenges in agriculture for adoption of chemical free farming systems, NCOF has recently been renamed as "National Centre for Organic & Natural Farming" (NCONF) in March 2022 with revised mandate revolving around Promotion of Chemical Free Farming (Organic and Natural farming), Quality control of Organic inputs, PGS Certification and contribution in national level policy formulations.
